WNBA

Transactions: Re-signed by Minnesota on May 4, 2003... Drafted seventh overall by Minnesota in the 2001 WNBA Draft... 2003: Concluded her third WNBA season as Minnesota's third-leading scorer and second-leading rebounder... Appeared in 30 games, missing four (July 20-26) due to a strained right hamstring suffered July 17 at Cleveland... Started the final six games (averaging 12.7 ppg and hitting 40.6%), after five straight bench outings (her first since July 2001); she tallied just 4.4 ppg (30.8%) off the bench... Finished the season 25 points shy of 1,000 for her career... Reached double figures 15 times, and was the Lynx' top scorer on five occasions... Had 12 points and 10 rebounds Aug. 16 at San Antonio, her lone point/rebound double-double this season (10th career)... Converted just six of her last 25 trey attempts, after enjoying an 11-for-27 stretch... Her 9-for-9 showing from the free throw line July 1 at Houston was a season best; she shot 70.4% in 2003, after hitting just 48.3% in 2002... Led all scorers with 21 points July 1 at Houston, her third 20+ effort of the year; she scored 20 points June 10 at Los Angeles and a season-high 23 points May 24 vs. Sacramento... Snared 10 rebounds June 12 at Sacramento, one of 13 double-digit efforts in her career... Handed out nine assists May 30 at San Antonio, the second-highest total in franchise history; Andrea Lloyd Curry dealt 11 at Charlotte on July 21, 1999... Ranked 12th in the WNBA in steals (1.47 spg) as well as 20th in assists (a career-high 2.7 apg)... 2002: Finished second on the team in scoring (11.6 ppg) and rebounding (5.4 rpg)... Appeared in 27 games... Missed five games due to a strained lower back, including the final three contests... Originally sustained the injury June 15 at Houston... Averaged 9.0 ppg and shot 32.8% (67-for-204) in 19 games following the injury, compared to 17.9 ppg (46.4%) in her first eight outings... Made only seven of her last 39 from long distance (17.9%); started the year 13-for-21 (61.9%)... Averaged 24.7 mpg in her last 13 games (34.6 mpg in the first 14)... Finished the season shooting 48.3% (56-for-116) from the free throw line... Tallied 11 points and 11 boards July 26 at Indiana, her third point/rebound double-double of the year (ninth career)... Handed out a career-high five assists June 29 vs. Orlando... Had 13 rebounds June 13 vs. Portland, equaling the second-highest total in club history... Led the team and ranked 15th in the WNBA in steals (1.56 spg); swiped a career-high five steals June 4 at Seattle... Minnesota's top scorer on seven occasions... Tallied 20+ points five times, including a season-high 26 points May 25 vs. Utah... Also set career bests in free throw attempts (18) and minutes (42) against the Starzz... Recorded a team-high 92 turnovers, second-highest single-season total... 2001: Drafted seventh overall by Minnesota in the 2001 WNBA Draft... Appeared in 26 games (23 starts) as a rookie and finished with averages of 13.2 ppg and a team-best 6.7 rpg... Finished fourth in the 2001 WNBA Rookie of the Year balloting... Her 6.7 rpg tied for first among rookies and ranked 12th in the league... Finished among the top five in the following categories for rookies: scoring average (13.2 ppg, third), rebounds (6.7 rpg, first - tie), assists (2.0 apg, fifth), steals (1.62 spg, third) and minutes (32.5 mpg, second)... Set a franchise single-season record with six point/rebound double-doubles... Recorded three consecutive double-doubles (Aug. 8-12)... Her 42 steals (1.62 pg) led the team and ranked 18th in the league... Had 21 points and a club-record 15 rebounds Aug. 5 vs. Sacramento... Her 16 free throw attempts July 23 vs. Houston tied a WNBA season best (regulation game)... Tied a career high with 27 points and added 10 rebounds July 30 at Los Angeles... Also scored 27 points July 21 at Orlando... Had 20 points and 11 boards July 23 vs. Houston... Led Minnesota in scoring six times, in rebounding 15 times and in assists on nine occasions... Ranked 18th in the WNBA in minutes (32.5 mpg)... Set a season-high field goal percentage in a game (88.9%, 8-for-9) and a club record for a half (5-for-5, first half) vs. Seattle on July 18; she sank her first eight attempts that game, tying another club mark... Committed nine turnovers at Portland on Aug. 8, the highest single-game total in the WNBA in 2001... Made her season debut by scoring five points in 18 minutes June 22 vs. Miami... The fifth-youngest player in the WNBA in 2001; she turned 21 on July 9... Activated on June 21, after missing the first six games and the entire preseason while recovering from left foot surgery... 2004 Media Guide

ADMINISTRATION

Glen TAYLOR | OWNER

On March 23, 1995, Glen Taylor closed the deal that made him majority owner of the Minnesota Timberwolves. He added the title of NBA owner to a list that already included international businessman, state senator, entrepreneur, philanthropist and executive of the year.

In October 2002, Taylor became the majority owner of the WNBA's Minnesota Lynx after a change in the league's ownership structure. Taylor had served as the Lynx' operating owner for the previous four seasons of the team's existence, beginning with the Lynx' 1999 inaugural campaign.

Taylor, 63, is Chairman of the Board of Taylor Corporation, located in Mankato, Minn., 75 miles southwest of the Twin Cities. The Taylor Companies, which are involved in the printing, marketing and electronics industries, include more than 70 operating divisions in 19 states, three Canadian provinces, the United Kingdom, Australia and Mexico. Their employees number more than 14,000, including more than 5,000 Minnesotans.

Taylor's business savvy has been recognized by Corporate Report magazine, which honored him as its Executive of the Year (1987), and the Sales and Marketing Executives of Minneapolis/St. Paul, who awarded him with their Sales Executive of the Year award (1999). He was also inducted into the Minnesota Hall of Fame (2002) by Twin Cities Monthly Magazine.

Taylor was elected to the Minnesota Senate in 1980, where he served until 1990. He became assistant Senate minority leader in 1982. From 1984 to 1986, he served as Senate minority leader.

Through personal involvement, Taylor has remained active in many civic and charitable causes. In Mankato, he has served as YMCA President, Chamber of Commerce Director, Mankato Jaycees President and United Way Campaign Chairman. On the state level, Taylor has served as the director of the Minnesota Business Partnership, director of the Greater Minnesota Corporation and president of the International Thermographers Association.

Taylor was born April 20, 1941, and graduated from Comfrey (Minn.) High School in 1959. In three years, he earned his bachelor's degree in mathematics, physics and social science from Mankato State University. He later continued his education at the Harvard Graduate School of Business.

Rob MOOR | PRESIDENT

Rob Moor has completed his fifth season as president of the Lynx. The 2003-04 NBA campaign marked his tenth season in that capacity for the Minnesota Timberwolves. As president of both the Lynx and Timberwolves, Moor is responsible for all day-to-day operations as well as setting the strategic goals and objectives for both franchises.

Prior to coming to Minnesota, Moor was the Executive Vice President of the Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League. Moor began his career in entertainment at MGM Studios in film production. He was involved in the merger with United Artists and subsequent sale of the studios to Ted Turner. Later, he joined 20th Century Fox working in the area of film distribution.

A native of Geneva, Switzerland, Moor moved to the United States in 1966, living in Santa Barbara, Calif. and Los Angeles. Moor and his wife, Taylor, reside in Wayzata, Minn., with their son, Grayson.

EXECUTIVE STAFF

Roger Griffth CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Roger Griffith joined the Timberwolves in 1994 as executive vice president and chief financial officer. Griffith, who played an instrumental role in bringing the WNBA to Minnesota, also serves as the Lynx' chief operating officer. In this role, he is responsible for all accounting, box office, budgeting, finance and personnel operations for both organizations. In addition, Griffith oversees the day-to-day operations of the Lynx.

Prior to joining the Timberwolves, Griffith gained a variety of experience in public and private industry. Previously, he worked for Taymark, a Taylor Corporation company, as division manager for the ad specialty direct mail division. He also worked at Northwest Airlines as the director of internal audit and spent time with a public accounting firm.

A native of Shakopee, Minn., Griffith graduated magna cum laude from Augsburg College in 1984 with a degree in business administration with a concentration in accounting. In 1988, he earned his MBA in general management from the University of Minnesota. Griffith resides in Eagan, Minn., with his wife, Jean, and daughters, Emma and Abby.

Chris Wright SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT AND CHIEF MARKETING OFFICER

Chris Wright completed his 14th season with the Minnesota Timberwolves organization and begins his sixth season with the Lynx. As senior vice president and chief marketing officer, Wright oversees the leaders of the communications group (media relations, community relations, Web sites, Timberwolves Foundation and editorial content in publications), the ticket sales and the basketball-related community programs group, as well as the corporate sales group (suite sales, corporate sales, corporate services and publication sales).

A native of England, Wright came to the United States in 1978. Prior to joining the Timberwolves, he spent three years working for the state of Minnesota, first as a consultant working on bids for major national and international events, including the programming for the $17.4 million National Sports Center in Blaine, Minn. Prior to that, Wright also served as the general manager for two Major Indoor Soccer League teams, the Pittsburgh Spirit (1981-86) and the Minnesota Strikers (1986-87).

Wright, who graduated from Carnegie College of Physical Education in Headingly Leeds, Yorkshire, England, is very involved in a number of local charities and youth sports programs. He resides in Eden Prairie, Minn., with his wife, Walla, their sons, Jeff and Ned, and their daughter, Christy.

Conrad Smith VICE PRESIDENT OF CORPORATE SALES

Conrad Smith has been with the Timberwolves organization for 10 seasons, the last three as vice president of corporate sales. Smith enters his sixth season with the Lynx. In his current capacity, Smith oversees the day-to-day activities of the corporate sales (television and radio advertising and arena signage), corporate services, publication sales and suite sales staffs.

A native of Woburn, Mass., Smith came to the Twin Cities in 1983. Prior to joining the Timberwolves, he spent four years working as the director of corporate sales for Major League Baseball's Minnesota Twins. Prior to that, Smith held the same job title for four years with the Minnesota North Stars of the National Hockey League. He also served as the director of public relations/marketing for the Minnesota Strikers of the Major Indoor Soccer League from 1983-87.

Smith is a graduate of Emerson College in Boston. He resides in Eagan, Minn., with his wife, Carla, their daughters, Tara and Christine, and their son, Brenton.

Suzie McCONNELL SERIO

HEAD COACH

Suzie McConnell Serio is entering her second season as head coach of the Minnesota Lynx. On Jan. 21, 2003, the former WNBA star and two-time Olympian was named the third head coach in the history of the Lynx. McConnell Serio, 37, has been an influential figure in the world of women's basketball for almost two decades.

In 2003, McConnell Serio led the Lynx to the franchise's most successful season in its five-year history. Minnesota, which qualified for its first-ever WNBA Playoffs berth in 2003, set several franchise records in 2003, including most wins (18), most home victories (11) and most consecutive home wins (seven). Minnesota also tied its most road wins in club history with seven (1999, 2000). The Lynx' eight-game improvement (10-22 in 2002) was the second-best turnaround in the WNBA in 2003, and tied the fifth-best in league history. In Game 1 of the 2003 Western Conference semifinals (Aug. 29), McConnell Serio guided the team to their first playoff win. The Lynx mounted a league-record 21-point comeback on Aug. 29 vs. Los Angeles to win 74-72.

Prior to joining the Lynx, McConnell Serio served as head coach of Oakland Catholic High School (Pittsburgh, Pa.) for 13 years. She posted an all-time record of 321-86 (82.5%), including a 120-10 (92.3%) mark the last four seasons. She completed her Oakland Catholic career with her team winning its third PIAA Class AAA championship in 2003 (28-5). Previously, Oakland Catholic won state championships in 2001 and 1993, and was runner-up on two other occasions (2002 and 2000). The school won four consecutive district championships from 1999-2002. McConnell Serio reached a coaching milestone on Dec. 17, 2002 when she registered her 300th victory at Oakland Catholic.

The former WNBA point guard played three seasons in the league with the Cleveland Rockers (1998-2000). As a rookie in 1998, she earned WNBA Newcomer of the Year and All-WNBA First Team honors after averaging 8.6 ppg and 6.4 apg (second in the league). Her 373 career assists ranks first on the Rockers' all-time list. McConnell Serio set Rockers single-game records for assists (12) and three-pointers (five) in 1998. She was a two-time winner of the Kim Perrot Sportsmanship Award (1998 and 2000), and finished her professional career with averages of 6.4 ppg and 4.6 apg in 81 contests. Cleveland drafted McConnell Serio in the second round (16th overall) in the 1998 WNBA Draft. McConnell Serio continued coaching at Oakland Catholic while playing in the WNBA.

Prior to her professional playing career, McConnell Serio won two Olympic medals. She was a member of the gold-medal-winning 1988 U.S. women's basketball team, and earned a bronze medal with the 1992 U.S. Olympic team. In 1988 in Seoul, South Korea, McConnell Serio finished among the U.S. leaders in the following categories: three-point field goals (5, 1st), three-point field goal percentage (71.4%, 1st), assists (11, T-2nd), free throw percentage (91.7%, T-2nd) and points (8.4 ppg, 5th). She averaged 6.8 ppg and 3.6 apg (2nd) in the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, Spain. Along with the Olympics, she also won a gold medal at the 1991 World University Games.

McConnell Serio completed a stellar collegiate career at Penn State (1984-85 - 1987-88) as the NCAA's all-time career assist leader with 1,307, a record that still stands. She averaged 14.9 ppg and 10.2 apg in 128 contests for the Nittany Lions. As a senior, she was named a First Team Kodak All-American after establishing a school single-season record of 682 points (20.7 ppg). She set the Penn State all-time record for steals (507) and the single-game record for assists (21). A four-time All-Atlantic 10 Conference player, she led the nation in assists as a junior with 355. The Pittsburgh native was named Atlantic 10 Freshman of the Year in 1985 after averaging 12.6 points and 9.7 assists.

In 1999, Sports Illustrated named her one of the Top 50 Athletes of the Century in the state of Pennsylvania, and in the same year she was honored as the Pittsburgh Athlete of the Year. She has also been recognized as one of Cleveland's 50 Most Interesting People of 1998 by Cleveland Magazine and as one of "The 10 Gutsiest Women of 1998" by Jane Magazine. McConnell Serio and her husband, Pete, have four children: Peter, Jordan, Mandy and Madison.

Nancy DARSCH

ASSISTANT COACH

Nancy Darsch, a former WNBA head coach, is entering her second season as an assistant coach with the Lynx organization. Darsch possesses nearly 25 years of coaching experience at the major college and professional levels.

Darsch, who has been involved with the WNBA in each of the league's seven years, spent three-plus seasons as a WNBA head coach. In the league's inaugural 1997 campaign, Darsch led the New York Liberty to a 17-11 record and an appearance in the WNBA Championship game. She compiled a 36-24 (.600) record in two seasons with New York. In 1999, Darsch became head coach of the Washington Mystics, and in her first season, the Mystics won nine more games than the previous year. In three-plus seasons as a WNBA head coach, Darsch posted a career record of 56-54 (.509). She also served as the head scout for the Mystics in 2001 and 2002.

Prior to coaching the Liberty, Darsch spent 12 seasons as the head women's basketball coach at Ohio State University (1985-1997), where she coached Lynx All-Star guard Katie Smith (1992-93 - 1995-96). While at OSU, Darsch compiled a record of 234-125 (.652), including four Big Ten Conference Championships and seven NCAA appearances. In 1993, Darsch led Ohio State to the NCAA Championship Game after the team won the regular-season Big Ten title (28-4). Before becoming a head coach at Ohio State, Darsch served as an assistant coach for seven seasons (1978-1985) under the University of Tennessee's Pat Summitt. During her tenure, she helped lead the Lady Vols to five Final Four appearances.

Darsch has also won two Olympic gold medals (1984 and 1996) as an assistant coach for the U.S. Women's Olympic basketball teams. A 1973 graduate of Springfield College in Massachusetts, Darsch began her coaching career at Longmeadow High School (Mass.), where she coached basketball, field hockey and softball. Darsch is a native of Plymouth, Mass.

Carolyn JENKINS

ASSISTANT COACH

Carolyn Jenkins begins her second season as a member of the Minnesota Lynx coaching staff. Jenkins brings 11 years of collegiate basketball coaching experience to Minnesota, including stints with two of the top college programs in the country.

Jenkins, 35, started her coaching career as an assistant coach on Tara VanDerveer's staff at Stanford University. During her time at Stanford (1991-92 - 1994-95), the team reached the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament each season, made two Final Four appearances and won an NCAA National Championship (1991-92). In her four-year coaching stint, Stanford won three Pacific-10 Conference titles, and two of the Cardinal's recruiting classes were ranked in the top five in the nation.

From 1995-96 - 1999-00, Jenkins served as the assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Michigan State. The Spartans finished 22-8 and won the Big Ten Conference championship during the 1996-97 campaign. Jenkins spearheaded a recruiting class that was ranked among the top 25 in the country three consecutive seasons (1997-98 - 1999-00).

Most recently, Jenkins has served as the head coach at Sacramento State University (2000-01 - 2002-03). In addition to her collegiate coaching, Jenkins has been involved with USA Basketball. She served as a scout and floor coach for the USA Basketball Senior National Team (1994) and a floor coach for the USA Basketball Pan American Team (1993).

Jenkins, a member of both the Women's Basketball Coaches Association and the Black Coaches Association, was elected into the Fresno (Calif.) Basketball Hall of Fame in 1999. She was the 1986 Central Section Player of the Year at San Joaquin Memorial High School in Fresno after winning championships in volleyball, basketball and softball. Jenkins graduated with an economics degree from the University of California - Berkeley (1990), where she played in 104 career basketball games in four seasons with the Bears (1986-1990).

MEDICAL STAFF

Dr. Sheldon Burns MEDICAL DIRECTOR

Dr. Sheldon Burns enters his sixth season as medical director for the Lynx. He has served in the same capacity with the Timberwolves for the past 15 seasons. A doctor at Edina Family Physicians, Burns is a Board Certified Specialist in Family Practice, Emergency Medicine and Sports Medicine. His duties with the Lynx include selecting and leading the medical staff, coordinating medical care and assisting in other club medical matters.

Dr. Mumtaz Kazim TEAM PHYSICIAN

Dr. Mumtaz Kazim begins her sixth season as a member of the Lynx medical staff. A physician at Edina Family Physicians with 18 years of experience, Kazim is a Diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice.

She began her medicinal studies while attending McGill University in Montreal and earned her Doctor of Medicine degree from the All Indian Institute of Medical Sciences in New Delhi, India. On her return to her birthplace, Trinidad, West Indies, she worked in the Port of Spain Hospital until she came to the University of Minnesota, where she received her training in family practice.

Alisha Hvistendahl HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

Alisha Hvistendahl is entering her sixth season with the Lynx and her third as the team's head athletic trainer. In addition to being responsible for every aspect of the Lynx' training room operations, Hvistendahl works closely with the team's medical staff in monitoring the players' physical condition as well as the evaluation and treatment of injuries.

Hvistendahl began her career working as the assistant athletic trainer at Northwestern College in Roseville, Minn. In October 2000, she served as the equipment manager and assistant athletic trainer for the WNBA On Tour 2000, a postseason all-star tour. Hvistendahl has also worked as an athletic trainer covering athletic events at area high schools and colleges within the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

A 1998 graduate of Bethel College in St. Paul, Hvistendahl majored in athletic training and received a minor in health and athletic coaching. A native of Cambridge, Minn., she and her husband, Scott, reside in Vadnais Heights, Minn.

HISTORY

2003 SEASON REVIEW

May/June (7-6) - The Lynx kicked off their fifth WNBA season with a 72-71 victory over Sacramento at Target Center. Minnesota outscored the Monarchs 15-4 over the final 7:06 to erase a 10-point deficit, and sealed the victory with a Katie Smith free throw. Svetlana Abrosimova scored 23 points as the Lynx improved to 4-1 on Opening Night. Minnesota remained at home to face its next opponent, the Los Angeles Sparks. Trailing 83-80 with 14 seconds remaining, Abrosimova was unable to connect on a trey that would have sent the game into overtime and the Lynx lost for the 13th straight time to Los Angeles. Traveling to San Antonio for its first-ever visit, Minnesota came away with a victory over the Silver Stars. The Lynx outscored San Antonio 10-1 in the game's final 3:38 to come out on top, 75-65. Returning home to face Houston, Sheri Sam led a balanced attack with 14 points and the Lynx rallied from an eight-point halftime deficit to post their first-ever victory against the Comets, 68-64 in overtime. The triumph ended a 13-game drought that included six losses at Target Center. After posting a 70-60 loss against New York, Minnesota embarked on a three-game West Coast road trip that began with another loss in Los Angeles. After Minnesota took the lead with 12 seconds remaining, the Sparks' Lisa Leslie put back her own miss with 0.2 seconds left and Los Angeles escaped with a 76-75 victory over the Lynx at Staples Center. During the first half, Smith sank her 300th career three-pointer, becoming the first player in WNBA history to reach that mark. Minnesota posted its third consecutive loss at Sacramento, 68-55, before finishing out the road trip with a win in Seattle. Smith poured in 32 points – including a WNBA-record-tying seven three-pointers – as the Lynx were victorious, 77-72. After losing at home to Houston, 77-68, Minnesota traveled to Charlotte to face another loss, as the Sting beat the Lynx for the fourth consecutive time, 76-72. Minnesota returned home to post a win over Indiana, 66-58, and then faced Phoenix at Target Center. Smith added the 500th three-pointer of her U.S. professional career, and she and Michele Van Gorp combined for 20 second-half points as the Lynx pulled away for a 67-59 victory over the Mercury. Closing out the month, Smith tallied 19 points and Van Gorp scored 15 of her 17 points in the second half as the Lynx ran their winning streak to three with a 59-50 victory over Washington at the MCI Center.

July (6-5, 13-11) - Minnesota opened the month with two straight losses. At Houston, Minnesota jumped out to a 14-point first-half lead, and was headed for its first-ever win at Compaq Center. But the Comets rallied in the second half and a Janeth Arcain jumper with 2.3 seconds remaining gave Houston a 71-69 victory. Cleveland downed the Lynx 79-71 at Target Center, beginning a four-game homestand for the Lynx. Minnesota then faced Sacramento, as Smith scored 26 points and the Lynx pulled away in the second half for a 77-59 victory over the Monarchs. In the first-ever meeting against Connecticut, Smith erupted for 34 points – including the 4,000th of her U.S. professional career – as the Lynx headed into the All-Star Break with an 83-75 win at Target Center. On July 12, Smith made her fourth straight All-Star Game appearance, scoring two points in the West's 84-75 win at Madison Square Garden. Upon returning, Smith led a balanced attack with 27 points as the Lynx picked up their third consecutive victory with an 85-78 triumph over San Antonio at Target Center. The win also tied the franchise record for consecutive home wins with three. Traveling to Cleveland, Minnesota faced another loss to the Rockers, 70-61. The Lynx followed with a win over Seattle as Smith scored eight of her 19 points in the final 3:16 and Minnesota withstood a career-high 30-point barrage from Lauren Jackson to come out victorious, 69-58. Playing for the first time in Connecticut, the Lynx pulled to within five in the waning minutes, but couldn't get closer and recorded an 84-70 loss at Mohegan Sun Arena. Back at Target Center to face San Antonio, Smith scored 19 of her 23 points in the first half and Janell Burse added a career-high 21 as the Lynx set a franchise record for largest winning margin with an 81-54 triumph over the Silver Stars, extending the home winning streak to five. Minnesota finished the month with two games on the road, stopping first in Indiana. Sheri Sam scored nine of her 20 points in the final four minutes as the Lynx handed the Fever just their second home loss of the season with a 70-65 triumph at Conseco Fieldhouse. Minnesota then faced Houston for the third time of the season. The Comets never trailed in the game and the Lynx missed their final eight shots as Houston came out victorious, 73-58.

August (5-5, 18-16) - The Lynx started August at home with a win over Seattle. Smith sank a running jumper from the right baseline as time expired, lifting Minnesota to a 73-71 victory over the Storm. The game-winning basket with no time remaining marked just the third time in franchise history that the Lynx have won a game in the final five seconds – and the first at Target Center. Minnesota recorded yet another home victory as the Lynx faced Phoenix. Sam and Burse combined for 27 second-half points and the Lynx drained all 20 of their free-throw attempts to stave off the Mercury, 61-56. Facing Phoenix again two days later, this time at America West Arena, Minnesota was handed a loss. The Lynx closed to within two with 2:32 to play, but Phoenix sealed the victory with five free throws, coming out on top, 56-49. Continuing on its three-game road trip, Minnesota faced another loss, in Seattle. The Lynx twice cut the deficit to two, but saw their final chance disappear when Amanda Lassiter corralled a missed free throw as time expired, as Seattle avoided a sweep of its season series with Minnesota. Finishing their trip in Sacramento, Smith scored 27 points and Sam added 20 as the Lynx overcame a 10-point deficit in the final six minutes to pull out a crucial 77-73 victory over the Monarchs. The win gave Minnesota the head-to-head tie-breaker in the season series (3-1). Minnesota returned home to face Los Angeles and the Lynx recorded their 15th consecutive loss to the Sparks. Minnesota closed to within two on Tamika Williams' layup with 15.8 seconds remaining, but Tamecka Dixon sank a pair of free throws to seal L.A.'s win, 87-83, snapping the Lynx' franchise-record seven-game home winning streak. In the loss, Sam became the 25th WNBA player to record 2,000 career points. After notching a 73-64 win in San Antonio, Minnesota moved on to face Phoenix. Burse and Smith both scored 16 points, and Burse blocked a last-second three-point attempt as the Lynx earned their first-ever playoff berth with a 69-66 victory over the Mercury. Minnesota closed out the regular season with two losses, in Los Angeles 88-65, and at home to Detroit. Against the Shock, Smith scored a key basket in the closing seconds to force overtime, but Detroit came out on top, 86-77.

2003 WNBA Playoffs - The Lynx (No. 4 seed) opened their first-ever WNBA Playoffs series against the defending WNBA champion Los Angeles Sparks (No. 1 seed). The Lynx won their first-ever playoff game 74-72, after a Tamika Williams steal with 7.4 seconds remaining capped a monumental comeback. Minnesota set a WNBA playoff record for largest comeback after trailing by as many as 21 points. Katie Smith scored a team-high 23 points, including a game-tying three-pointer with 24.4 seconds left. Lisa Leslie topped Los Angeles with 24 points. The Sparks evened the series at 1-1 following Game 2's 80-69 victory in Los Angeles. All five of Los Angeles starters reached double figures with Delisha Milton and Tamecka Dixon tallying 17 points apiece. Los Angeles closed out the series (2-1) following Game 3's 74-64 win at Staples Center. For the second consecutive night, all five Sparks' starters reached double figures. Tamika Williams paced the Lynx with 17 points, all coming in the second half.

Overall Notes - Minnesota, under the direction of first-year head coach Suzie McConnell Serio, set several single-season franchise records in 2003, including most wins (18), most home victories (11) and most consecutive home wins (7). Minnesota also tied its most road wins in team history with seven (1999, 2000). The Lynx' eight-game improvement (10-22 in 2002) was the second-best turnaround in the WNBA in 2003, and tied the fifth-best in league history.

2002 SEASON REVIEW

May/June (5-8) – The Minnesota Lynx opened the 2002 WNBA campaign with a 79-75 overtime loss to the Utah Starzz on May 25. It marked the team's first season opener loss in its four-year history. The Lynx, who played without Katie Smith (dislocated finger), were led in scoring by Svetlana Abrosimova's season-high 26 points. The Lynx embarked on a three-game road trip that began with consecutive victories at Miami (66-63) and Sacramento (63-61). In Miami, the Lynx shot a club-record 55.6% from the field and tied the WNBA single-game record for fewest field goal attempts with 36. The win improved Minnesota's all-time record against Miami to 4-0. The win at Sacramento snapped a four-game losing streak at ARCO Arena and came in front of a capacity crowd of 17,317. The road trip ended on a sour note as the Lynx fell in overtime to Seattle 78-68, despite leading by 11 points (54-43) with 8:46 remaining. In the defeat, Smith connected on three three-pointers and moved past Cynthia Cooper (232) into first place on the WNBA's all-time leader board. Minnesota returned home and fell to the defending WNBA Champion Los Angeles Sparks (76-72) for the 10th straight time. Four of the team's first five games were decided by four or fewer points. Minnesota responded with back-to-back wins against Sacramento and Portland to close out the three-game homestand and improve to 4-3. Prior to the game against the Monarchs, the Lynx made their first ever mid-season trade by shipping guard Betty Lennox to Miami for guard Tamara Moore. (The Lynx and Sol would exchange draft picks days later to complete the deal.) The 60-46 win against Portland – Minnesota's fifth straight over the Fire – was the team's first double-digit victory margin of the season. The team's three other victories were by just 14 points combined. Against the Fire, Abrosimova and Williams each recorded double-doubles. It was only the second time in Lynx history that two players earned double-doubles in the same game (previously: Abrosimova and Smith vs. Portland, 8/8/01). The Lynx hit the road for a season-high four-game, 10-day road trip with stops at Houston, Portland, Los Angeles and Phoenix. Houston overcame a 13-point first-half deficit to retain its perfect record (11-0) against the Lynx with a 51-50 victory. A 59-51 loss at Portland followed as well as defeats at Los Angeles and Phoenix. The Lynx' record dropped to 4-7. In Phoenix, Williams set the franchise single-game mark with 10 offensive rebounds. A home loss to Houston increased the team's losing streak to five games. Minnesota closed out the month with a 67-59 victory against the Orlando Miracle. It was Minnesota's first game against an Eastern Conference opponent since May 28 at Miami.

July (2-11, 7-19) – Smith erupted for a season-high 28 points as Minnesota opened July with an 85-80 overtime win against Detroit. The four-game homestand ended with a one-point loss to the Washington Mystics (64-63). The Utah Starzz handed Minnesota its biggest loss of the season (87-56) at the Delta Center. Portland won the season series with the Lynx after a 75-72 win at Target Center in front of 12,108 fans during the team's first weekday matinee game. With 21 points, Smith became only the ninth player in WNBA history to eclipse the 2,000-point plateau. The Lynx' losing streak increased to five games with back-to-back road losses at Detroit and Charlotte. The two road defeats also increased the team's road losing streak to a franchise-high eight games and dropped the Lynx' record to 6-13. Against Detroit, Smith (27 points) surpassed Utah's Natalie Williams (3,461) to become the all-time leading scorer in the history of U.S. women's professional basketball. On July 16, a day after the 2002 WNBA All-Star Game, Minnesota made the first coaching change in franchise history. The team relieved Brian Agler of his coaching duties and promoted assistant coach Heidi VanDerveer to head coach for the remainder of the season. Agler retained his general manager title with the club. A day later, Cleveland spoiled VanDerveer's coaching debut with a 58-48 victory at Target Center. Miami defeated the Lynx for the first time in five attempts and handed Minnesota its season-high seventh consecutive loss (61-58). On July 24, VanDerveer picked up her first win as Lynx coach with a 70-62 win over Utah. The victory bumped Minnesota's record to 7-15. The Lynx' road woes continued as the team lost each contest on their second four-game road trip of the season – Indiana, Sacramento, Phoenix and Seattle. The Lynx mustered only 45 points at Phoenix (57-45), the club record for fewest points scored. After the loss at Seattle, Minnesota had dropped a club-record 12 consecutive games away from Target Center, the fourth-longest road losing streak in league history. The team's two wins matched the club record for fewest in a month set in July 2001 (2-11).

August (3-3, 10-22) – The Lynx responded by opening the month with consecutive home wins. Minnesota equaled its largest win in team history with a 24-point victory over Phoenix, 75-51. The team shot 65.5% from the field in the second half, establishing a new club record. Smith set a franchise single-game field goal accuracy mark by connecting on nine of 10 shots from the floor (90.0%). The game was played before a season-high crowd of 12,544 fans (third-largest all-time), and the largest home crowd since 1999. A win against Seattle followed and the Lynx notched their third straight home victory, evening their Target Center record at 7-7. Despite shooting a season-low 31.9% from the field, the Lynx upset New York at Madison Square Garden for their 10th win of the season. It was the team's first victory in New York since 1999. For the fourth time during the 2002 campaign, the Lynx suffered at least a three-game losing streak as the team closed out the year with home losses to Charlotte and Los Angeles and a road defeat in Houston. In four years, the Lynx have a combined record of 1-25 versus Los Angeles and Houston, and a 51-51 record against the rest of the league.

Overall Notes – For the third straight season, Smith led the Lynx in scoring with 16.5 ppg, eighth-best in the WNBA. For the second consecutive season, she led the league in minutes played (36.7 mpg). The 5-11 guard earned her third consecutive trip to the WNBA All-Star Game and was selected to the All-WNBA Second Team, her third straight all-league honor. Williams averaged 10.1 ppg and shot a team-record 56.1% (second in WNBA) from the field. She ranked eighth in the WNBA in total rebounds (7.4 rpg) and second in offensive rebounds (3.1 pg). The 6-2 rookie rewrote the Lynx' single-season rebounding records by establishing team highs for offensive rebounds (96), defensive rebounds (133) and total rebounds (229).

In 2002, the Lynx finished with the fewest wins in club history (10). Minnesota posted a 7-9 record at home and 3-13 mark on the road. The Lynx' offense averaged the fewest points in the WNBA (62.6 ppg). The team ranked 16th in the league in free throw percentage at 66.3% and finished second in turnovers committed with an average of 16.5 per game. The Lynx' defense held its opponents to 65.8 ppg, fifth-best in the WNBA, and posted the sixth-best defensive field goal percentage by limiting its opponents to 41.3% shooting.

2001 SEASON REVIEW

May/June (5-6) – The Minnesota Lynx won their third consecutive season opener with an 82-65 victory at Portland on May 31. The 17-point victory was the largest road win in franchise history. On June 2, Phoenix downed Minnesota 89-80 at Target Center, handing the Lynx their first loss in a home opener. A week later, Minnesota held a double-digit lead against the undefeated Los Angeles Sparks (4-0) with 10 minutes remaining before the Sparks rallied for a 62-60 win at Target Center. The Indiana Fever provided the Lynx their third consecutive home setback (65-60). In the defeat, the Lynx lost Kristi Harrower for the season with a torn left ACL. In the rematch four days later, Stephanie McCarty sank a running jumper with 1.2 seconds left to give Indiana a 67-65 victory at Conseco Fieldhouse. Minnesota snapped its four-game losing streak with a 71-63 win at Detroit the following night. Smith poured in 40 points and accounted for a league-record 56.3% (40 of 71) of her team's points. The win came with a steep price, as Betty Lennox strained her left hip capsule. The injury would force Lennox to miss the next 20 games. In rookie Svetlana Abrosimova's debut on June 22, Minnesota reeled in another victory with a 63-57 home win against Miami. The Lynx lost the next night in Utah, 87-80. Back-to-back wins at Washington (55-51) and versus Seattle (68-59) evened Minnesota's record at .500 (5-5) for the first time since June 2. However, the team dipped below .500 following a 59-52 loss to Houston at Target Center. The Lynx scored a franchise-low 11 points in the first half, the second-fewest points in a single half in league history. For the first time in three seasons, the franchise posted a losing record in the WNBA's opening month. Smith led the team and the league with 24.6 ppg. Prior to her injury, Lennox averaged 12.5 ppg and a team-best 7.8 rpg.

July (2-11, 7-17) – The Lynx opened July with four straight losses. A 52-47 upending at Cleveland was followed by the worst loss in franchise history, a 39-point (91-52) thumping by Sacramento at Target Center. After a loss to New York (70-57), the team's home record fell to 2-6. On July 8 in Los Angeles, the Lynx and Sparks engaged in a WNBA regular-season classic. Trailing by 17 points with 13 minutes left, Minnesota rallied and took the lead with under a minute remaining. The Sparks' Ukari Figgs' three-pointer with 15.1 seconds on the clock sent the game into overtime. Los Angeles rattled off 12 unanswered points in the extra session to defeat Minnesota 100-95. In the loss, Smith set the WNBA single-game scoring record with 46 points. With a combined 195 points, the game was the season's highest-scoring contest in the WNBA, and the third-highest-scoring game of all-time. The Lynx (6-10) snapped their five-game losing skid with a 73-52 home victory against Portland. New York swept the season series from Minnesota with a 67-64 victory at Madison Square Garden. For the second time in 2001, Phoenix out-dueled the Lynx at Target Center, 80-67. The Lynx picked up another victory from the Storm, 68-58, at Target Center. Abrosimova's 21 points led the team, marking the first time in 2001 (18 games) that Smith did not top the Lynx in scoring. Despite the proximity to Disney World, Minnesota's lone game against Orlando didn't prove to be much fun. The Miracle handed the Lynx a 71-49 loss that dropped the team's record to 7-13 and started the second five-game losing skid of the year. Losses to Houston (51-46), Washington (62-60), Utah (68-60 OT) and Los Angeles (78-69) closed out the month. The July 23 loss to the Comets saw Minnesota establish a single-game record by shooting only 20.0% (11-for-55) from the field. Minnesota dropped to 10 games under .500 (7-17) for the first time in franchise history. July's 2-11 record set a franchise record for the fewest wins in a month.

August (5-3, 12-20) – Minnesota opened the final month of the regular season with a 68-63 victory at Phoenix. Smith (36 points) joined Utah's Natalie Williams as only the second player in U.S. women's professional history (ABL/WNBA) to score 3,000 career points. A 72-64 home loss to Charlotte (Aug. 3) officially eliminated the Lynx from playoff contention. In Lennox' return from the Injured List on Aug. 5, Minnesota posted a thrilling 79-76 overtime victory against Sacramento. Abrosimova corralled a club-record 15 rebounds in the win. A return battle against the Monarchs in Sacramento two days later resulted in a 76-59 loss. However, the Lynx responded with a season-high three-game winning streak. Road victories in Portland (70-58) and Seattle (65-51) were followed with a 69-62 win over playoff-bound Utah in the home finale on Aug. 12. The victory at Portland featured a Lynx first as two players (Abrosimova and Smith) recorded double-doubles in the same game. The win also marked the first time in team history that the Lynx had swept a regular-season series from a Western Conference opponent (3-0). The Lynx wrapped up the 2001 WNBA campaign with a 74-60 loss at Houston. The 5-3 record in August provided the Lynx with the third winning month in franchise history.

Overall Notes – Minnesota finished the season with a 12-20 record, including identical 6-10 home and road marks. The team's six home victories were the fewest recorded by a WNBA team in 2001. However, the Lynx recorded a 4-1 mark in the five games in which Abrosimova, Lennox and Smith played. The Lynx finished the 2001 campaign with a 12-3 record when leading at the half, compared to an 0-17 mark when trailing after 20 minutes. Smith rewrote the WNBA record books as she captured seven league single-season records: points (739), scoring average (23.1 ppg), free throws made (246), free throws attempted (275), three-point field goals attempted (240), minutes played (1,234) and average minutes (38.6 mpg). Abrosimova tied for first among WNBA rookies and finished 11th overall with 6.7 rpg.

HISTORY

2000 SEASON REVIEW

May/June (9-5) – The Lynx opened their second WNBA season with a 73-62 victory over the Cleveland Rockers at Target Center with Katie Smith exploding for 34 points. Following the season opener, the Lynx dropped consecutive games at Utah and against Los Angeles. Minnesota rolled to an 88-68 victory versus Detroit. A sweep of a two-game Sunshine State road trip followed with wins in Orlando and Miami. Minnesota's 14-point victory (71-57) in Orlando was the team's largest road win of the season. In a return matchup against the Miracle at Target Center, the Lynx set a club record with their fourth consecutive victory (72-66). The team extended its win streak to five games with a road victory against Phoenix. The third consecutive road win also set a new Lynx high-water mark. Riding a five-game win streak, the Lynx traveled to Houston for a battle between the two teams with the best records in the Western Conference (Houston 8-1, Minnesota 6-2). The Comets remained unbeaten against Minnesota as they pulled out a 78-66 victory. The Lynx suffered their second two-game losing streak of the season with a 19-point loss to Phoenix. Minnesota responded with back-to-back victories over Utah and Cleveland. In another first, Minnesota recorded its first overtime win on Smith's three-pointer with :00.7 remaining to dump the Rockers, 60-57. A defeat in Sacramento and a victory over the expansion Seattle Storm ended the opening month. In the Seattle victory, center Andrea Lloyd Curry was lost for the remainder of the season with a torn left ACL. Minnesota ended the month winning eight of its last 11 games and three of its final four. The Lynx posted records of 4-2 at home, 5-3 on the road and a perfect 6-0 against the Eastern Conference. Smith led not only the Lynx, but the entire WNBA, with 21.9 ppg. She tallied 20+ points in eight games and reached double figures in all 14 contests.

July (4-9, 13-14) – Minnesota opened the month of July with a four-game homestand at Target Center. The Lynx stifled Portland, 81-75, before dropping the three remaining games to Seattle, New York and Houston. The loss to the Liberty marked the Lynx' first defeat at the hands of an Eastern Conference opponent in 2000 (6-1). Minnesota embarked on a franchise-long five-game, 12-day road trip beginning in Phoenix on July 11. Losses to Phoenix and Portland evened the Lynx' record at .500 (10-10). Against Portland, Minnesota set a WNBA single-game record for fewest free throws made with one. Los Angeles handed the Lynx a tough one-point loss (58-57) on two Tamecka Dixon free throws with 1.3 seconds remaining as Minnesota dipped under .500 (10-11) for the first time since June 3. Another defeat by the Monarchs and a 67-61 loss at Seattle completed the road trip. Minnesota's losing skid had reached a team-record eight games. During the eight losses (0-3 at home and 0-5 on the road), the Lynx scored 59.0 ppg, allowed 67.5 ppg and shot 39.8% from the field. The Lynx returned to Target Center on July 23 with an 80-63 win against the Fire. The Lynx swept the season series with Miami with a convincing 68-44 victory at Target Center on July 28. The 24-point victory tied the largest in franchise history as the Lynx connected on a team-best 72.7% (8-for-11) from beyond the three-point arc. The Lynx traveled to the MCI Center on July 29 and defeated Washington, 87-85. Smith's four three-pointers gave her 79 on the season, breaking the WNBA single-season record. The win also marked head coach Brian Agler's 100th professional regular-season victory, making him the first coach in the history of U.S. women's professional basketball (ABL/WNBA) to reach that milestone. The Los Angeles Sparks swept the season series with the Lynx at Target Center with a 73-66 victory, snapping Minnesota's three-game winning streak. In the last five games of the month, Kristin Folkl increased her averages to 8.0 ppg and 6.8 rpg while shooting 48.1% from the field. Smith averaged 4.0 assists in the last seven games and led the team in assists in four of the last seven contests. In the Lynx' last seven victories, Lennox averaged 23.3 ppg on 50.9% shooting. During the eight game losing skid, Lennox' average dipped to 12.6 ppg.

August (2-3, 15-17) - Eliminated from playoff contention on the first day of the month, the streaky Lynx opened August with two consecutive home losses, to Utah and Sacramento. Minnesota rebounded to post an 80-75 win in the regular-season home finale against the Indiana Fever. With the win, the Lynx restored their home record to 8-8, the identical home mark of the previous season. Minnesota closed out the regular season on the road. A 76-67 win at Charlotte gave the Lynx a 10-1 record against Eastern Conference foes. Minnesota wrapped up its second season in the WNBA with a 77-64 defeat to Houston at the Compaq Center. The loss was the seventh consecutive set back against the Comets.

Overall Notes – Minnesota finished 15-17, the identical record the club attained during its inaugural campaign. Minnesota lost 11 of its last 12 games versus Western Conference teams, finishing with a 5-16 record against the West. Smith and Lennox finished the season as the second-highest scoring duo in the WNBA (37.1 ppg). Smith became only the fourth player in WNBA history to average more than 20.0 ppg (20.2 ppg). She finished the season with 88 three-point field goals, the WNBA's single-season record. Lennox, who led all WNBA rookies with 16.9 ppg, earned the 2000 WNBA Rookie of the Year Award. Both players received All-WNBA Second Team honors.

1999 SEASON REVIEW

June (4-3) – The Lynx opened their inaugural season with 68-51 victory over Detroit at Target Center on June 12. Guard Tonya Edwards scored the franchise's first points on a layup on her way to a game-high 20 points. A crowd of 12,122 was on hand to witness the first regular-season game in Lynx history. Minnesota downed Utah (78-54) two nights later to become the first expansion team in WNBA history to start the season 2-0. The Lynx battled the two-time defending WNBA Champion Houston Comets on June 19 at Target Center. At the time, it was a showdown between the league's only remaining undefeated teams (Minnesota 2-0, Houston 3-0). Minnesota fell short, losing for the first time in team history, 69-55. The Lynx completed a three-game western road trip at 2-1, losing to Sacramento before regrouping to defeat Los Angeles and Utah. On June 26 at Utah, Minnesota set a WNBA single-game record by sinking 14 three-point field goals. The month ended with a home loss to Sacramento, but WNBA history was made once again. The Lynx and Monarchs combined to set a WNBA single-game record with 21 three-point field goals (Minnesota 11, Sacramento 10). For the month, Tonya Edwards paced Minnesota with 17.7 ppg. Brandy Reed contributed 13.7 ppg and a team-high 4.6 rpg. Katie Smith added 12.8 ppg after missing the first two games of the season recovering from knee surgery.

July (7-7, 11-10) – Minnesota opened the month of July with an 81-77 double-overtime loss to the Los Angeles Sparks at Target Center. The loss dropped the Lynx' home record under .500 for the first time (2-3). Minnesota bounced back to win three of its next four games. The Lynx defeated Phoenix at home before going on a four-game road trip, the longest of the season. Minnesota lost to Houston at the Compaq Center, but recovered the next night, beating expansion rival Orlando. The Lynx won their second straight game, 58-56, with Reed's running jumper at the buzzer to defeat New York. The two-point victory at New York was followed by a defeat to the Cleveland Rockers at Gund Arena. Minnesota bounced back and racked up three consecutive victories, its longest winning streak of the season. Wins at home against New York and Sacramento were followed by a road victory against the Charlotte Sting. Minnesota struggled at the end of the month, losing four of its last five games, starting with back-to-back home losses against Washington and Houston. The Lynx squeaked out a win at Sacramento, but suffered their worst loss of the season, a 33-point defeat, at Phoenix. The month closed for Minnesota with the sixth home loss of the year against Charlotte, dropping the team's home record below .500 for the second time (5-6). Reed paced the Lynx in July with 15.8 ppg and 6.6 rpg. She led Minnesota in scoring nine times during the month, scoring 20 or more points on six different occasions. Edwards contributed 14.9 ppg.

August (4-7, 15-17) – The Lynx opened August with an impressive 17-point home victory over Phoenix. The win evened Minnesota's Target Center record at .500 (6-6). Minnesota followed the victory by dropping the next four games to Detroit, Los Angeles, Utah and Phoenix, its longest losing skid of the season. An 80-70 loss at Utah on Aug. 7 saw the Lynx' record fall below .500 (12-13) for the first time. A loss at Phoenix two days later marked the first time Minnesota's road record dipped below .500 (6-7). The Lynx snapped the losing streak with a home win versus Utah. Minnesota suffered another slide by losing three of its next four games. The Comets completed the season sweep of the Lynx with a 71-53 victory at the Compaq Center. The Lynx vindicated an earlier loss to Cleveland by defeating the Rockers at Target Center. The victory brought Minnesota's home record above the .500 mark for the first time since July 23. A loss at Los Angeles on Aug. 18 dropped their road record three games below .500 (6-9) and officially eliminated the Lynx from the playoffs. Minnesota ended its regular-season home schedule with a three-point overtime loss to Orlando, 83-80, on Aug. 20. The team closed its inaugural season with a win at Washington that ended a six-game road losing streak. In August, Smith led Minnesota with 13.2 ppg. Edwards added 12.9 ppg and 4.0 rpg. Kristin Folkl scored in double-figures in four of Minnesota's last five games, averaging 13.2 ppg and 7.0 rpg.

Overall Notes – The Lynx tied for fourth place in the Western Conference with a 15-17 record during their inaugural season. Minnesota posted a 7-9 road record and an 8-8 mark at Target Center. Reed topped the Lynx in scoring and rebounding with 16.1 ppg and 6.0 rpg. The Lynx ranked fifth in the WNBA in attendance, averaging 10,494 fans per game.

PLAYOFF GAME RECAP

Minnesota 74, Los Angeles 72
Tamika Williams' steal and layup with 7.4 seconds remaining capped a monumental comeback as the Lynx handed Los Angeles a 74-72 setback in Game 1 of the best-of-three WNBA Playoff series on Aug. 28 at Target Center. The Sparks stormed out to a 17-6 lead less than five minutes into the contest, hitting eight of their first nine shots. Lisa Leslie poured in 17 points in the first half, which ended with Los Angeles on top 49-32 after Tamecka Dixon's three-pointer in the closing seconds. A jumper by Dixon gave the Sparks a 21-point advantage early in the second half, but Katie Smith ignited a 9-0 burst that sliced Minnesota's deficit to 53-41. Trailing by 10 with under nine minutes remaining, the Lynx outscored Los Angeles 13-2 to take their first lead of the night at 62-61 on a Williams layup. Leslie answered with a three-point play to reclaim the lead for L.A., but Teresa Edwards put Minnesota back in front 69-68 with a three-pointer at the 2:42 mark. Baskets by Mwadi Mabika and Leslie gave the Sparks a three-point edge in the final minute, setting the stage for a game-tying Smith trey that made it 72-72 with 24.4 seconds left. Williams then stole Mabika's inbound pass and drove for the go-ahead score. Edwards and Janell Burse combined to knock the ball loose from Mabika as time expired. Leslie finished with 24 points and Dixon added 18 for Los Angeles, which lost Nikki Teasley to injury midway through the first half. Smith's 23 points topped the Lynx in their first-ever playoff game, while Williams chipped in 16 points and Edwards handed out nine assists. Minnesota set a WNBA playoff record for largest comeback after trailing by as many as 21 points.

Game Two at STAPLES Center - Saturday, August 30
Los Angeles 80, Minnesota 69
Lisa Leslie had 20 points and nine rebounds as Los Angeles squared its first-round series by downing the Lynx, 80-69, on Aug. 30 at STAPLES Center. Janell Burse's three-point play gave Minnesota its only lead of the night at 5-3, before Mwadi Mabika sank a three-pointer to put the Sparks on top. Leslie's jumper capped a 10-0 surge that stretched L.A.'s lead to 13 midway through the first half. Trailing 30-15, the Lynx used a 9-2 spurt to close within eight on a Svetlana Abrosimova trey. The half ended with Los Angeles in front 36-26, taking advantage of 15 Minnesota turnovers for 16 points. The Sparks reeled off 10 unanswered points - four each by Leslie and Mabika - to open up the biggest lead of the night at 54-32 with 13:17 remaining. Minnesota battled back to within 73-65 when Teresa Edwards connected from long distance at the 3:05 mark, but the Lynx misfired on a pair of three-point attempts that would have sliced the deficit to five. Leslie answered on L.A.'s next possession, and the Sparks sank five consecutive free throws to seal the win. All five Los Angeles starters reached double figures, with DeLisha Milton and Tamecka Dixon tallying 17 points apiece and Milton grabbing 10 rebounds. Katie Smith's 18 points topped Minnesota, while Tamika Williams added 17 points and seven boards.

Game Three at STAPLES Center - Monday, September 1
Los Angeles 74, Minnesota 64
Lisa Leslie tallied 22 points and five blocks, and all five Los Angeles starters reached double figures in the series-clinching 74-64 win over the Lynx at STAPLES Center. Leslie scored the final two baskets of a 12-2 surge that gave the Sparks a 28-15 lead with 6:06 left in the first half. Minnesota chipped away with a pair of Katie Smith baskets sandwiched around Teresa Edwards' three-pointer to close within seven, but L.A. outscored the Lynx 6-1 down the stretch to take a 38-26 lead at intermission. DeLisha Milton had 12 first-half points to top the Sparks, who shot 50 percent from the floor while holding Minnesota to 32 percent. A three-point play by Leslie in the second half's opening minute gave Los Angeles its biggest lead of the night at 43-28. The Lynx rallied to within eight on a three-point play by Smith with 8:01 remaining, and Kristi Harrower's trey with 6:10 to play narrowed the deficit to 62-55. However, Mwadi Mabika answered on the Sparks' next possession and Leslie followed with a layup to push the margin back to 11, spoiling the second-half effort of Minnesota's Tamika Williams, who scored all 17 of her team-high points after intermission. Smith chipped in 11 points for the Lynx, while Edwards netted eight points and eight assists. Sheri Sam had seven points, eight rebounds and five steals. Tamecka Dixon scored 14 points for Los Angeles, with Milton and Nikki Teasley adding 13 apiece. Teasley also registered eight assists.

LEAGUE HISTORY AND INFORMATION

On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June 1997. Since that day in 1996 there have been many firsts for the WNBA: Val Ackerman -- the first president of the WNBA; Sheryl Swoopes - the first player signed to the WNBA; Cynthia Cooper - the league's first Most Valuable Player; the Houston Comets - the first WNBA Champions; Lisa Leslie - the first WNBA player to dunk. However, the very first for the league was a "to-do list." With less than 15 months to tipoff, a league of its own began to unfold for the WNBA as each task was completed. The history of the WNBA follows.

On the Air. . .
Before a player was signed or a staff member was in place, the league announced its broadcast partnerships with NBC, ESPN and Lifetime Television. It was decided that the WNBA season would be played in the summer when the sports calendar was less crowded and the games could be televised live. During a successful inaugural season, more than 50 million viewers watched WNBA games on the three networks.

ESPN2 joined NBC and ESPN to televise WNBA games beginning in 2001 and carried live coverage of the WNBA Draft. Lifetime, which had carried games during the first four seasons, continued as a partner through 2002, presenting Players' Journal, a weekly half-hour magazine show highlighting the on and off-court lives of the league's players and coaches.

Oxygen Media signed on to televise WNBA games in 2002, and in 2003 ABC Sports became a new partner through a six-year agreement that extended the WNBA's national television coverage through 2008, its 12th season. Telemundo, the fastest growing Spanish language television network in the U.S., and NBA TV, the league's 24-hour television network, also joined ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and Oxygen in carrying WNBA games beginning with the 2003 season.

In 2003, WNBA games and programming reached the largest global audience since the league's inception, with WNBA content broadcast to 183 countries in 26 languages. The league delivers an audience unique in sports. In-arena, gender breakdown is approximately 80-20 female-male. The TV audience is about 50-50, with a strong percentage of non-adult viewers.

The Players and the Teams. . .
The first of the player signings was announced on Oct. 23, 1996, with Sheryl Swoopes and Rebecca Lobo joining the league. The duo was soon followed by Lisa Leslie, Ruthie Bolton, Cynthia Cooper, Michele Timms (the first international player) and many more WNBA hopefuls.

Eight teams were announced for the league's inaugural season. The Eastern Conference consisted of the Charlotte Sting, Cleveland Rockers, Houston Comets and New York Liberty while the Western Conference was composed of the Los Angeles Sparks, Phoenix Mercury, Sacramento Monarchs and Utah Starzz.

On April 29, 1999, the WNBA and the Women's National Basketball Players Association (WNBPA) announced the league's first collective bargaining agreement - a first of its kind in women's team sports.

By 2000, the league had expanded to 16 teams, with the Detroit Shock and Washington Mystics joining the league in 1998, the Minnesota Lynx and Orlando Miracle in 1999, and the Indiana Fever, Miami Sol, Portland Fire and Seattle Storm in 2000.

The 2002 season saw 176 women play professional basketball in 256 regular-season WNBA games (schedule history: 34 games in 2003; 32 games from 1999-2002; 30 in 1998; 28 in 1997). Continuing to showcase talented stars from around the world, the league featured 45 players from 22 countries.

In October 2002, the NBA Board of Governors voted to restructure the WNBA to allow individual team ownership, and to allow teams to be owned by non-NBA owners and located in non-NBA markets. Orlando, Miami, Portland and Utah elected not to assume ownership of their teams, and in December, the WNBA announced the relocation of the Utah Starzz to San Antonio, which had previously been awarded a WNBA franchise. The team would be named the Silver Stars. On Jan. 28, 2003, the Connecticut Sun were awarded the Orlando Miracle and became the newest WNBA franchise, with the Mohegan Tribe of Indians becoming the first non-NBA owner in league history.

On April 25, 2003, the WNBA and the WNBAPA signed its second collective bargaining agreement which gave WNBA players the first free agency rights in women's professional team sports.

On Sept. 19, 2003, the Cleveland Cavaliers/Gund Arena Company announced that they would no longer operate the Cleveland Rockers.

The WNBA Draft . . .
The Comets selected Tina Thompson, the Pac-10 Conference's leading scorer, with the first pick of the Inaugural WNBA Draft in 1997. Margo Dydek, a 7-2 center from Poland, was selected first in the 1998 Draft by the Starzz, and two-time Associated Press Women's Basketball Player of the Year Chamique Holdsclaw was the Washington Mystics' No. 1 selection in the 1999 Draft. In 2000, the Cleveland Rockers selected Ann Wauters from Belgium as the first overall pick, and Australian Olympian Lauren Jackson went to the Seattle Storm with the No. 1 selection in 2001. In 2002, National Player of the Year Sue Bird was selected by Seattle, who had the top pick for the second consecutive year by virtue of the WNBA's first Draft Lottery, held in New York on Nov. 13, 2001. The Cleveland Rockers made Latoya Thomas of Mississippi State the No. 1 selection in the 2003 WNBA Draft, while the Phoenix Mercury selected Connecticut All-American Diana Taurasi with the top pick in the 2004 WNBA Draft.

LEAGUE HISTORY AND INFORMATION

The Logos and the Uniforms . . .
With players and teams in place, the league began its next task of creating logos and uniforms. The red, white and blue official WNBA logo – "Logo Woman" – was selected from about 50 different designs. After developing an extensive list of choices, the team names were selected by the league and the teams based on numerous factors, including a tie to the NBA team name in that market, a link to a key characteristic of each city or state and/or the creation of a name fitting the current sports landscape. The uniforms also underwent several designs, and on May 21, 1997, the WNBA unveiled the team uniforms - two shorts silhouettes and three jerseys.

On May 1, 2003, the WNBA and Reebok unveiled new uniform designs that were created to maximize performance and provide optimal comfort for the players. The jerseys are tapered to fit a woman's body and are designed to be worn untucked, providing a free range of motion for the players. The new uniforms featured flat-back mesh material that incorporates Play Dry™ technology - Reebok's moisture management system that helps keep the athlete cooler, drier and more comfortable by using temperature and humidity-regulating properties in the fabric.

The WNBA and Reebok also released a new style in the WNBA Footwear Collection by Reebok – the WNBA Isolation – at the beginning of the 2003 season. This shoe features the WNBA logo on the heel, tongue, sole and sock liner.

It's a Ball Game . . .
The WNBA game consists of a 30-second clock, a 20-foot, 6-inch three-point line, two 20-minute halfs, 11-player rosters and a collegiate-regulation size ball. The WNBA's signature orange-and-oatmeal basketball by Spalding is 28.5 inches in circumference and one inch smaller than the NBA's regulation ball. In January 2003, Spalding Sports Worldwide and the WNBA announced the Spalding WNBA Infusion basketball, featuring a built-in, dual action Micro Pump®, as the new official game ball of the league beginning in the 2003 season.

Millions of Fans Join In . . .
The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, Calif. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks 67-57. On Aug. 22, the WNBA league attendance surpassed the one million mark at America West Arena in Phoenix. In 2001, the WNBA welcomed its 10 millionth fan on Sept. 1 at the STAPLES Center in Los Angeles. In 2002, more than 2.5 million fans attended WNBA games for the second straight year, as regular-season attendance averaged more than 9,000 fans for the sixth straight season. In 2003, the WNBA season attendance topped the two million for the fourth consecutive year.

Fans Get Connected Online...
The league website, WNBA.com, is the single most authoritative source of information for WNBA fans around the world, offering late-breaking news, real-time scores, statistics, behind-the-scenes access, video highlights, the most comprehensive women's sports fantasy basketball game (WNBA Virtual GM), live chats with WNBA players and personalities, expert analysis from WNBA insiders and complete websites for all 13 WNBA teams.

On May 31, 2003, WNBA.com featured the first-ever live video webcast of a game in women's professional sports history when the Detroit Shock played the Charlotte Sting. The success of the groundbreaking webcast lead to the launch of WNBA Broadband Season Pass, a multimedia subscription service featuring 10 additional live webcasts of WNBA games, WNBA Season Audio Pass and broadband highlights and features.

Overall the popularity of WNBA.com continues to soar. During the 2003 season, WNBA.com averaged over 60,000 visits per day.

League Showcases All-Stars . . .
On July 14, 1999, the league held the inaugural WNBA All-Star Game at Madison Square Garden in New York, televised live on ESPN. The capacity crowd of 18,649 witnessed the incredible sportsmanship, teamwork, enthusiasm, fan involvement and in-arena excitement that characterizes the WNBA. The Western Conference All-Stars – led by the game's Most Valuable Player Los Angeles Sparks center Lisa Leslie – defeated the Eastern Conference 79-61.

All-Star excitement continued in 2000 as the game moved to the America West Arena in Phoenix on July 17. The West All-Stars defeated the East All-Stars 73-61 before a crowd of 17,717 as Houston's Tina Thompson captured MVP honors. Leslie earned her second All-Star MVP award at the 2001 WNBA All-Star Game, played at the TD Waterhouse Centre in Orlando, Fla., on July 16 in front of 16,906 fans. The West claimed its third victory with an 80-72 defeat of the East. The 2002 WNBA All-Star Game was played on July 15 in Washington, D.C., at the MCI Center. The West All-Stars defeated the East All-Stars 81-76 in front of a crowd of 19,487, with Leslie earning MVP honors for the third time. ESPN televised the game live through the 2002 game. In 2003, the WNBA All-Star Game marked its fifth anniversary with a return to Madison Square Garden on July 12. The event was held on the weekend for the first time and made its network television debut on ABC. The West All-Stars won the event for the fifth straight year by beating the East All-Stars 84-75 in front of 18,610 fans, with Nikki Teasley of the Los Angeles Sparks taking home the MVP honors.

WNBA COMMUNITY RELATIONS

WNBA In The Community

The WNBA connects with fans of all ages through extensive community outreach. As we mark the eighth season of the WNBA, our players continue to be recognized for their commitment and dedication to fans in cities across America. The WNBA has three primary community initiatives: WNBA Mind. Body. Spirit., WNBA Read to Achieve and Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA presented by Gatorade and Nike. In addition to these initiatives, the WNBA honors players who are active in their communities with the WNBA Community Assist Award presented four times a year.

WNBA Mind. Body. Spirit.

The WNBA Mind. Body. Spirit. program is the league's primary cause-related campaign focusing on two main components – nutrition, exercise and positive self-image; and breast health awareness. The platform focuses on the development and execution of events and programs that emphasize the importance of good nutrition, regular exercise and positive self-image. The program targets our youth fan base as well as their families.

The WNBA Breast Health Awareness program focuses on generating awareness and educating women about breast cancer in addition to raising funds for the initiative. For the second year, the WNBA is proud to have the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation as a partner and beneficiary of the program. In 2003, the WNBA and its teams raised more than $150,000 to benefit the Komen Foundation. Breast health information will be distributed to fans during in-arena awareness nights and a breast health awareness public service announcement will air on nationally televised games and in-arena. Once again, fans will have the opportunity to log on to WNBA.com to bid on their favorite item featured in the Breast Health Awareness Auction. All proceeds from these items, including games of HORSE with WNBA stars, All-Star memorabilia and WNBA autographed items, will benefit the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation.

WNBA Read to Achieve

Read to Achieve is a year-round, league-wide initiative supported by NBA, WNBA and NBDL teams that promotes the values of reading and online literacy, and encourages families and adults to read regularly with young children. The program includes thousands of reading time-outs, the donation of books and literacy materials, and the creation of Reading and Learning Centers and Reading Corners throughout the world.

National and local All-Star Reading Teams have been formed consisting of current and former NBA and WNBA players and other members of the NBA and WNBA family, who promote reading efforts through in-arena events, public service announcements and school and community appearances throughout the year.

Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA Presented by Gatorade and Nike

The Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA, presented by Gatorade and Nike, is a support organization for recreational youth basketball leagues in the United States, Canada and abroad that connects players, parents, coaches and officials to heighten awareness and participation in youth basketball. Approximately 1,000 youth basketball leagues and about 50,000 teams (for boys and girls, ages 5-14 years old) are 2003-04 Jr. NBA and Jr. WNBA members. Additionally, 100,000 coaches and 500,000 players and their parents receive program support and materials. WNBA players and coaches make drop-in visits and participate in special events with Jr. WNBA leagues across the country.

PLAYOFF FORMAT & HISTORY

2004 WNBA Playoffs

The top four teams from each conference will qualify for the 2004 WNBA Playoffs. Teams in each conference will be seeded one through four based on record. Each round of the 2004 WNBA Playoffs is a best-of-three series. The team with the better 2004 regular-season record will have home court advantage in each round of the playoffs. The WNBA uses a 1-2 format throughout the entire playoffs (including the WNBA Finals series), in which the team with the better record plays on the road for Game 1 and returns home for Games 2 and 3. In the Eastern Conference First Round and the Western Conference First Round of the WNBA Playoffs, each conference's regular-season champion (#1 seed) will meet the conference's fourth place team (#4 seed). The conference's second place team (#2 seed) will meet the conference's third place team (#3 seed). The winners of the first-round series advance to the Eastern Conference and Western Conference Finals, with the two conference champions squaring off in the WNBA Finals.

GENERAL

LYNX COMMUNITY INITIATIVES

The Sixth Annual Great Basketball Dribble

The Minnesota Lynx will host the sixth annual U.S. Bank Minnesota Lynx Great Basketball Dribble on Saturday, June 19, 2004, in support of breast cancer research. The Lynx invite all fans, survivors and anyone who has been touched by breast cancer to walk or dribble in this year's event. The 2.5 mile event, which raises funds for breast cancer research in Minnesota, weaves through the streets of downtown Minneapolis, beginning and ending at Target Center.

Read to Achieve

The WNBA and the Minnesota Lynx have partnered to implement Read to Achieve, a year-round literacy program to help young people develop a life-long love for reading and to encourage adults to read regularly with children. Reaching an estimated 50 million children per year, Read to Achieve is the most extensive educational outreach initiative in the history of professional sports. Locally, the program consists of an All-Star Reading Team, Reading Time Outs, the Starting Five at-home reading incentive program, the refurbishment and creation of reading centers and book donations. For more information on Read to Achieve, log on to www.lynxbasketball.com.

GENERAL

Into the Community

During the 2003 WNBA season, Lynx players and coaches made over 100 individual player appearances throughout the Twin Cities. Some of the team's appearances included summer schools, basketball camps, shelters, libraries and other local events. All requests for player appearances should be directed to the Lynx Community Relations Hotline at 612-673-8397.

Tickets for Kids

During the 2003 season, more than 35 charitable organizations, including nonprofit agencies, schools and shelters throughout the state of Minnesota, attended Lynx games through the donation of the Lynx Tickets For Kids program. Lynx supporters, corporate sponsors and season-ticket holders purchased tickets for this program. Most groups were composed of women and children who may not have otherwise been able to enjoy the games without complimentary tickets. Season ticket holders also donate unused season tickets to this program for distribution.

Hospital Tour

Lynx players, coaches and staff annually visit area children's hospitals and shelters, bringing gifts, smiles and words of encouragement.

Lunch Learners

Morton's of Chicago and the Minnesota Lynx have combined their efforts to create the Lunch Learners program. Lunch Learners gives middle school students the opportunity to dine in an upscale restaurant while learning fine dining etiquette from Lynx players and staff. The dining experience is a reward for students who have met certain goals. Hosted by Morton's of Chicago in downtown Minneapolis, the luncheons will be held several times during the 2004 season.

TEAM STORE/SCOREBOARD

THE GYM On August 12, 2003, the Minnesota Timberwolves and Lynx, along with Event Merchandising Incorporated (EMI), announced plans to construct a team store on the Target Center skyway level. "The Timberwolves Gym," as the store is known, is located near the skyway bridge that leads to the Block E Entertainment Complex.

The store revolves around the concept of a high school gymnasium, complete with metal equipment cages, lockers and trophy cases. Exciting images of Timberwolves and Lynx action contrast nostalgic photos of high school teams from generations past. The store plans to let Minnesota high schools compete for the opportunity to have images, trophies and awards of their old teams featured in the space.

The Timberwolves Gym includes fan favorites like Timberwolves and Lynx T-shirts, sweatshirts, hats, and limited collectible items. Additionally, with the expanded space, EMI is able to carry a complete line of items never before available to fans, such as specialized made-to-order jerseys, autographed memorabilia, unique collectible items, infant and youth apparel, ladies' apparel, jewelry, and additional collectibles.

Scoreboard

Minnesota Lynx fans, partners, media and players will see noticeable changes when they arrive at Target Center for 2004 home games. Patrons will see a brand-new state-of-the-art scoreboard and technologically advanced LED signage.

The centerpiece of the facelift is the center-hung scoreboard that was designed and manufactured by ANC/SACO. The scoreboard features a message center and four high-resolution video screens. The SMARTVISION® video screen will establish the Target Center as having the very latest state-of-the-art video screen technology in the entire country. In addition, as a result of the superior ANC/SACO Light Emitting Diode (LED) design, fans will be able to view the screens at virtually every angle in the arena. Every seat in the house will now have a clear view to a dynamic video screen display.

LYNX BROADCAST TEAM

Marney Gellner TELEVISION PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Marney Gellner returns for her second season as the play-by-play announcer for Fox Sports Net's telecasts of Lynx basketball. Gellner joined Fox Sports Net North in October 2002 as host of the network's Minnesota Timberwolves pregame show and courtside reporter for the team's telecasts on FSN.

Prior to joining FSN, Gellner most recently worked for the WISC-TV Channel 3 sports team in Madison, Wis. She served as a reporter and weekend sports anchor for the network from 1999-2002. Gellner spent the previous two years at WDAZ-TV in Grand Forks, N.D. Before that, she worked at KXMB-TV in Bismarck, N.D.

An athlete herself, Gellner played basketball, volleyball, softball and ran track at Minot Ryan High School (N.D.), before attending the University of Mary in Bismarck. In college, she played volleyball and softball. Sports is a family affair for the Gellners. Her older brother was an all-conference football player in high school, and her younger brother is a sports anchor at Fox TV in Fargo, N.D.

Andrea LLoyd Curry TELEVISION ANALYLST

Former Minnesota Lynx center Andrea Lloyd Curry returns for her third season as television analyst for Fox Sports Net's telecasts of Lynx basketball. Lloyd Curry brings a wealth of basketball knowledge to the broadcast position, having played 14 seasons (WNBA, ABL, overseas) at the professional level.

A member of the Lynx' inaugural 1999 team, Lloyd Curry appeared in 46 games over two seasons and averaged 6.3 ppg and 3.9 rpg. Prior to joining the WNBA, she won back-to-back ABL championships in 1996-97 and 1997-98. Before her professional career, Lloyd Curry starred at the University of Texas and was a member of the team's undefeated (34-0) 1986 National Championship Team. She also earned a gold medal as a member of the 1988 U.S. Olympic Team.

Lloyd Curry also works as the analyst for the University of Minnesota's women's basketball games on FSN. She and her husband, Eric, reside in Minneapolis.

Brian Sieman RADIO PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Brian Sieman returns for his third season of broadcasting Minnesota Lynx games. He is the radio play-by-play announcer for the Lynx on the team's radio home, KLBB-AM 1400/1470.

Sieman spent the offseason working for AM950 in Denver, Colo., the flagship station for the NBA's Denver Nuggets. Sieman, a 1998 graduate from the University of Kansas, has worked in professional basketball most of his career, having also worked in the Continental Basketball Association (CBA) and the International Basketball Association (IBA). Sieman also served as the play-by-play announcer for Drake University in 2001.

Sieman is single and lives in Eden Prairie, Minn.

MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIALS: Press seating at Lynx home games at Target Center is available to accredited media at tables located on court level, baseline and the upper-level press box. Single-game credentials must be requested no later than noon the day before the game (Friday noon for Sunday games). Requests should be made in writing to Mike Cristaldi, Minnesota Lynx, Target Center, 600 First Avenue North, Minneapolis, MN 55403; fax requests will also be accepted at (612) 673-8367. Credentials are good for admittance to Target Center, the arena floor, the locker rooms, the media work room and the media dining room. Those requesting single-game credentials will be seated on a first-come, first-served basis. Single-game credentials must be picked up at the Target Center Press Entrance, located at the corner of Sixth Street and Second Avenue. Picture identification must be shown in order to receive your single-game credential. Those holding Lynx or WNBA season credentials may enter the building through the Target Center Press Entrance located on the Sixth Street side of the building. MEDIA MEMBERS HOLDING SEASON PASSES SHOULD NOTIFY THE PUBLIC RELATIONS DEPARTMENT IF PLANNING TO COVER A GAME IN ORDER TO RESERVE SEATING. A season credential does not guarantee seating. A MEDIA CREDENTIAL CANNOT BE USED TO SIT IN SPECTATOR SEATING AREAS. Media should be prepared to have all bags in their possession searched upon entrance into Target Center. Credentials must be displayed at all times. There is absolutely no transfer of credentials between parties.

DINING ROOM: Accredited media is invited to have a meal before each game in the Minnesota Lynx media dining room located next to the media workroom. The dining room opens two hours before each game. Dining room usage will be limited to members of the media with valid Lynx or WNBA media passes. It is impossible to accommodate family members, friends, guests or others. ANY ABUSE OF DINING ROOM PRIVILEGES WILL CAUSE FORFEITURE OF YOUR MEDIA PASS.

SERVICES: Complete statistics, along with pre-game media notes, lineup information regarding injuries and other pertinent facts, will be furnished by the Lynx public relations department. Play-by-play sheets, halftime and final box scores and post-game coach/player quotes will be delivered to working media areas. There are sufficient electrical outlets available and telephones are located at various points along press row and in the media work room. Preference for telephone use will be given to writers and broadcasters filing stories on deadline. The Lynx also provide a fax machine that is available for complimentary use by working media.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Only those photographers on assignment will be allowed space on the floor, and their media credentials must be worn prominently at all times. Credentials are good for admittance to Target Center, the arena floor, locker rooms (only if assignment warrants), media work room and media dining room. Photographers are only allowed within the designated photographers area at each end of the court, unless permission is granted through the Lynx public relations department to shoot in other areas of the arena. Spaces will be reserved for local dailies and wire service photographers. Other spaces are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Positions may be switched or rotated upon agreement of all parties involved. Professional courtesy should apply in all cases. When entering Target Center, photographers should be prepared to have all bags in their possession searched.

LOCKER ROOMS: Both the Lynx' and visiting team's locker rooms will be open to the media for 30 minutes beginning 90 minutes before tip-off. For example, the locker rooms will be open from 5:30 p.m. - 6:00 p.m. for a 7:00 p.m. game. Both locker rooms will re-open 10 minutes after the game.

COURTESY: Your cooperation is asked in maintaining a working atmosphere in the media room, at courtside and in the locker room areas. During post-game interviews, preference for obtaining players and coaches will be given to game broadcast crews conducting live post-game shows, newspapers writing on deadline and television stations doing live sports broadcasts.
